This month is about opening to new directives from your Higher Self. Because this activation is in Capricorn, we're also reminded that it's our first time back here since her extended stay Nov-March. It's also the first time since then that you get to see how much this Area of Life has changed for you. What have you learned about your Self? Your Reality? Your Purpose? It's time to explore various NEW Roles & Responsibilities that you can now take on by choice, rather than circumstance. Your Inner Authority has been restored and you now carry this *embodied wisdom* that guides your every move. This is an opportunity to acknowledge how far you've come as an individual, which'll now be reflected in the relationship choices that you make going forward. What you commit your time to, dedicate your resources to and pour your energy into is co-creating your Reality & Purpose. New creations are now bubbling, new collaborations are now possible, and all that you have to do is: Choose & Commit.

Pioneer asks you to step up and into new leadership roles going forward. You are bushwhacking a Path, you are taking the 'road less traveled' and you are moving into all new territory so stay alert and look for opportunities at every turn. It's time to open to bigger ideas and go to your Future Self for clues & directions. Because of all of the Release Work that you just came through, you are now in such a better position to make choices & decisions for your Self. You've let go of old baggage that was weighing you down and you are now free to take up any cause or commitment that you like because you are cultivating a whole new foundation for living.

The Light Work of this Archetype is expand & express your new identity, purpose & offering to others.

This month will fortify the connection to your Thought Body & Crown Chakra, initiating and reclaiming a whole new connection to your own earned wisdom, that part of you that recognizes balance and works to create beauty & harmony in all that you do. Now is the time to imagine the possibilities for your Emergent Self. Imagine the relationships you can experience now that you are vibrating at a whole new frequency. New situations & different people will be attracted to you now and you will begin to lead by example more often, which will magnetize even more support & protection. Open your consciousness & invite the deeper wisdom within you to guide you from idea-to-form.
